

Dear Susan,

For Cory's safety, we must restrict his mother's parental access for a period of time while she attends treatment. Her doctors have recommended that this would be a wise decision as she has been prone to violent outbursts in recent months.

I will be in contact with you shortly to plan a time to meet. There are some safety precautions that must be taken in these circumstances.

Helena Spence
Guardianship worker